Climate solutions offers new revenue streams for businesses.

- Public sector funding is falling short of required levels for climate adaptation and mitigation.
- Private sector investment is not scaling fast enough to cover the shortfall.
- Developing countries face a disproportionate shortfall, exacerbating global inequalities.

CALL TO ACTION

- Increase both public and private investments in climate solutions and green technologies.
- Implement policies that encourage sustainable practices and support climate adaptation efforts.
- Foster international collaboration to address financial disparities and accelerate climate action.
