Medical treatment & rescue expense insurance payments pertaining to endorsements for coverage of emergency medical treatment for illness & rescue expenses

If the symptoms of an illness you had prior to your trip at your study abroad destination suddenly worsens *1 and you require treatment

*1 What is the rapid deterioration of symptoms?

The term means a change in symptoms the occurrence of which while studying abroad cannot be foreseen by the insured, and is considered to be unavoidable even if special attention considered reasonable in the light of principles generally accepted in society was given.

*2 Benefits are payable for policies with insurance periods of up to 31 days with an attached "endorsement for coverage of emergency medical treatment for illness & rescue expenses".

The endorsement insurance payment amount will be the sum total of the medical treatment cost portion and rescuer's expenses portion up to 3 million yen for a single incident.

(In the case of treatment and rescuer expense insurance payment amount of more than 3 million yen). In addition, if your study abroad schedule is extended and the insurance period is extended to more than 31 days, this endorsement cannot be attached for the extended period.

Dental treatment expense insurance payments

If you have a toothache while studying abroad *1

*1 Only if you commence dental treatment (excluding preventive orthodontic treatment) for a dental illness that occurred during your study abroad after midnight on the day after the day the waiting period has elapsed from the insurance commencement date. For details, please check the explanation of coverage.

! Treatment expenses are not covered until the 31-day waiting period has elapsed.

* This applies to customers who have concluded a contract type policy and have an insurance card.

<Notes on entering into a contract>

- Please set the insurance period (insurance contract period) according to the "study period" – from when you leave your residence for the purpose of studying abroad to when you return to your residence. Residence refers to the premises in the case of a detached house, or inside the apartment where the insured resides in the case of an apartment building. In addition, the insurance will end when you return to your residence, even if midway through the insurance period.
- The insurance period is counted including the day of your departure. For instance, the insurance period is "Up to 8 days" for "study abroad from June 1st to June 8th", "up to 2 months" for "study abroad from June 1st to July 31st" and "up to 3 months" for "study abroad from June 1st to August 1st".

Overview of overseas travel insurance (Outline of main endorsements, etc.)

“While traveling overseas” means during the travel schedule, from the time the insured departs from his or her residence for the purpose of traveling overseas (such as studying overseas) to the time he or she returns home, during the insurance period (during the insurance contract period). Residence refers to the premises in the case of a detached house, or inside the apartment where the insured resides in the case of an apartment building.

* When the degree of injury or illness becomes serious due to a physical impairment or illness that preexisted at the time of the injury or illness, we will pay the amount equivalent to when there was no effect.

Important notes regarding policies

◆ Relationship with Gakkensai:

If an accident occurs, for Gakkensai (Personal Accident Insurance for Students Pursuing Education and Research), we ask that you report it yourself through the university you are enrolled in after your return to Japan as normal. Please be aware that we will provide information about any accidents and injuries to the Gakkensai office of your university at regular intervals as reference information.

◆ Physical activity at your travel destination:

In the following cases, if you do not attach a special risk coverage endorsement and pay the additional premiums corresponding to these activities, etc., insurance claims will not be paid, so please apply.

- When mountain climbing using mountaineering equipment such as an ice axe and crampons, riding a luge, bobsled or skeleton, skydiving, hang-gliding, flying in an ultra-light power machine (Motor hang glider, micro light machine, flying in an ultra-light aircraft (Refers to powered hang gliders, microlight planes, and ultralight planes, and excluding ultralight powered parachutes, such as paraplanes.), flying in gyroplanes, or engaging in other similarly dangerous activities at your travel destination
- When flying an aircraft (excluding gliders and airships) at your travel destination (However, additional premiums not required if piloting aircraft at work).
- If you are going to engage in competitive driving, test driving or free driving on a racecourse in a vehicle such as an automobile at your travel destination.

◆ Work at your travel destination:

In the following cases, if you do not pay the additional premiums, the insurance claims that you receive may be reduced or not paid, so please apply.

- If you are going to engage in dangerous work at your travel destination (for example, professional boxing or pro-wrestling)

◆ If you are required to enroll in insurance by your study abroad destination:

Depending on where you study abroad, you may be required to take out local medical insurance in addition to the overseas travel insurance covered you subscribed to at a Japanese insurance company. In addition, certain standards may be set for the scope of compensation and the amount of compensation (insurance payment amount), and our overseas travel insurance may not meet said standards. We ask that you please check the standards yourself before applying.

◆ Insurance certificate:

If you need to be issued with an insurance certificate in addition to an insurance card, please contact either us or your agent.

◆ Overlap of coverage:

- When signing a contract for a personal liability endorsement or emergency treatment and rescue expense collateral endorsement, etc., and the insured or a family member has signed an insurance contract with similar coverage *1, the coverage may overlap.
- If coverage overlaps, either insurance policy may cover the accident, but the insurance from the other may not be paid. Please confirm the differences in coverage and the insurance payment amounts before considering the necessity of endorsements. *2

*1 This includes endorsements attached to insurance policies other than overseas travel insurance and insurance policies for other insurers.

*2 Please be aware that when going with a single policy, in the future if you cancel that policy, etc., you may lose coverage.

◆ Procedure for changing contract contents overseas:

[Extension] Please be sure to extend the insurance period before the maturity date (end date). If it is necessary to change the contents of the contract, such as extending the insurance period, while staying overseas, please have a family member, friend, etc., who is in Japan act as your proxy, and request us or your agent to perform the extension procedure.

However, please note that it may not be possible to extend the contract depending on the insurance payment status and the contents of the notification.

*If the insurance period is over 2 years, you cannot change the contents of the contract.

How to calculate the insurance premiums to be paid

Additional premium = Applicable premium corresponding to the extended insurance period - Applicable premium corresponding to the insurance period of the existing contract

[Cancellation] If you wish to change your schedule and return to your home country early during the insurance period, please contact either us or your insurance contract agent.

Please be careful, so that your study abroad will be a fulfilling experience.

◆ Provision of personal information regarding insurance claims

When the insured makes an insurance claim with this insurance, we will provide the personal information provided on the insurance claim form to ① the university, for student services provided by the university and administrative management, and to ② the subscriber, Japan Educational Exchanges and Services (JEES), in order for JEES to respond to inquiries from the university and conduct safety awareness and system promotion activities. If you do not agree with this, please consult us separately.

The handling agent perform agency services such as insurance contract conclusion and contract management, based on a contract with an underwriting insurance company.

Therefore, policies that you contracted with the handling agent and successfully concluded shall be directly contracted with the underwriting insurance company.
